Description

The 10' Round Levante Umbrella (3.0m R-LCT) by Bambrella is one of the most popular umbrellas in the industry. It is designed to be used in commercial or high-end domestic market environments without any loss in durability. Its pole is made from a single piece of bamboo, which gives it enhanced strength and durability, while giving your entire umbrella a simple, clean classic look. The umbrella opens and closes via a pulley and rope system, which makes lowering and raising it a breeze. The umbrella incorporates a turned bamboo hub and runner, with stainless steel brackets, a bamboo finial, and an elegantly practical hour glass shaped pin. The cover is attached with your choice of a bolt-down stainless steel rib-end protector system or a sewn pocket end system. Each rib and supporting arm is then fitted with stainless steel to make all parts easily interchangeable. Choose from an assortment of Spuncrylic fabrics.

Bamboo Furniture Bamboo furniture is the new alternative to wood furniture for outdoor environments due to its eco-friendly properties as well as its functionality in outdoor furniture. Bamboo itself is non toxic and non hazardous to the environment and is a very sustainable and renewable resource. It not only is the fastest growing plant in the world, but also absorbs more carbon dioxide than any other plant or tree, minimizing its impact on the environment. From a furniture standpoint, bamboo makes a great alternative to wood due to its naturally strong and durable stature, with a tensile strength that's similar to that of steel. It is resistant to warping, splitting, rotting, molding, or mildewing, and will neither splinter or leach. On top of it all, it also has a beautiful protective oil finish that enhances its natural golden color.
