Bamboo Furniture Bamboo furniture is the new alternative to wood furniture for outdoor environments due to its eco-friendly properties as well as its functionality in outdoor furniture. Bamboo itself is non toxic and non hazardous to the environment and is a very sustainable and renewable resource. It not only is the fastest growing plant in the world, but also absorbs more carbon dioxide than any other plant or tree, minimizing its impact on the environment. From a furniture standpoint, bamboo makes a great alternative to wood due to its naturally strong and durable stature, with a tensile strength that's similar to that of steel. It is resistant to warping, splitting, rotting, molding, or mildewing, and will neither splinter or leach. On top of it all, it also has a beautiful protective oil finish that enhances its natural golden color.
