
Product Images

Short Description

The surface the water runs over is a standard mirror, which reflects the natural beauty of the water cascading over it, and allows for this feature to double as a nicely framed mirror when it is turned off. This feature has been designed with the bottom of the mirror to be submerged in the water, which allows the water to make a very soft trickle sound, and evokes a calming sensation that only water can bring. In addition to being hand crafted, this feature is set apart from the others by its up lighting, and down lighting. The up lighting is controlled on a dimmer so the home owner may set the brightness to their preference. The down lighting can be controlled separately from the up lights, and makes for a beautiful night light. The light casts on the rocks below, and catches on the edge of the outer stones, which accentuates its ridges and deep textures. This water feature is sure to become the focal point of your home & can be made custom to fit any size and any environment.

Description

The surface the water runs over is a standard mirror, which reflects the natural beauty of the water cascading over it, and allows for this feature to double as a nicely framed mirror when it is turned off. This feature has been designed with the bottom of the mirror to be submerged in the water, which allows the water to make a very soft trickle sound, and evokes a calming sensation that only water can bring. In addition to being hand crafted, this feature is set apart from the others by its up lighting, and down lighting. The up lighting is controlled on a dimmer so the home owner may set the brightness to their preference. The down lighting can be controlled separately from the up lights, and makes for a beautiful night light. The light casts on the rocks below, and catches on the edge of the outer stones, which accentuates its ridges and deep textures. This water feature is sure to become the focal point of your home & can be made custom to fit any size and any environment.

Additional Information

SKU

Tuscan-Rose

DISC The Tuscan Rose Vertical Mirror Wall Fountain

$4,100.00

